

Proceedings of The Royal Society of Queensland

CALL for PAPERS and Dissertation Abstracts 2021

The next annual volume of the peer-reviewed scholarly journal, Proceedings of The Royal Society of Queensland, will be published at the end of 2021. Manuscripts should be submitted by 1 July 2021. The Proceedings has been produced since 1884, and is the premier generalist journal dedicated to Queensland science. Many eminent scholars have published in this journal.

Scope

The Proceedings of The Royal Society of Queensland (PRSQ) publishes papers with rigorous scholarly approaches. Papers on topics in the natural sciences that are significant for Queensland and Queenslanders are particularly welcome. Papers on related topics including the social sciences, managing the natural environment, education, culture, history, philosophy, heritage and policy will be considered. PRSQ regularly publishes research articles, reviews, short communications and outlook papers.

Please contact the Honorary Editor, Dr Julien Louys, (editor@royalsocietyqld.org.au) to ascertain whether a paper is within the journal's scope.

Early-career researchers

As an accessible local journal published by a non-commercial scholarly academy, the Proceedings offers a low-obstacle route to publication for early-career researchers. The peer review process always improves an article, and scholarly feedback from the review process is not to be feared.

Student abstracts

PRSQ publishes abstracts of completed honours, masters and doctoral level dissertations without further peer review. This publication opportunity exposes a student's work to an international audience. It is not necessary to be a member of the Society to submit an abstract. Publication of these abstracts is particularly recommended for dissertations that are otherwise unlikely to enter the scholarly literature. Deadline for dissertation abstracts is 1 October 2021.

Online access

Publishing in the Proceedings offers an opportunity to rapidly profile current research, since articles are published online as soon as they are accepted and typeset. Print publication follows when the volume is complete. The Society can store ancillary and supporting data on its website.

Previous editions of the Proceedings can be accessed on the website. The Proceedings is indexed by Scopus, Google Scholar, EBSCO and Informit. Full text searching is available online from Vol. 1, 1884.

Style guide

All authors are requested to use modified APA style as outlined in the Guide to Authors. Papers not in this style will be returned to authors for revision.

The 2021 Guide to Authors can be obtained from the Society's website www.royalsocietyqld.org/proceedings.